Flamingo Bodies
Flamingos' pink color comes from shrimp pink algae and plankton. Sometimes flamingos stand on one leg. Flamingos produce crop-milk from their throat for their babies. The bend in the flamingo's leg is called their ankle. Flamingos lay eggs in a cone shaped mud nest; each egg lays one baby flamingo.A flamingo bill is special because it filters water from the food. Flamingos are strong swimmers because they have webbed feet.
Flamingo Habitat
Flamingos can be found in North America,South America, Europe, Aisa, and Africa. They spend most of their day in a lagoon (shallow water). Unfortalanty Flamingos no longer nest in the United states because of damage to their natural habitat. A Flock can contain up to one million birds.
Other Interesting Facts
The word flamingo comes from the Spanish and Latin word " flamenco" meaning fire. Did you know when a flamingo sits down it bends its legs backward. flamingos can fly up to 37 mph.
